

VIVRI®

THE BEST VERSION OF YOURSELF

THE VIVRI® COMMUNITY

“The virtue of angels is that they cannot deteriorate; their flaw is that they cannot improve. Humanity’s flaw is that we can deteriorate; but our virtue is that we can improve.”

-Hasidic Saying

As a member of the VIVRI community, you help others achieve the best version of themselves; and in that magical process achieve your best version.

Together, we share the VIVRI healthy lifestyle platform with the world in a transparent and honest way that simply makes people believe in the VIVRI Essential Nutrition System (ENS).

In this way, we improve the world around us one person at a time, focusing on how to serve every member of our community by listening to and addressing their healthy lifestyle needs.

VIVRI® IS BORN

VIVRI is born to answer the necessity of millions of people who were looking to nourish themselves in the most easy, healthy and delicious way.

With this vision, the VIVRI Medical-Scientific Board, formed by members of Stanford University and other prestigious institutions, strove to combine the best of science and nature, thus developing formulas that aim to nurture your body in the most integrated manner. To achieve this mission, the scientific board dove into the basis of the human diet, macro and micro nutrients.

After an extensive research process, results were extraordinary.

The expert team led by “The Father of Vitamins”, Mr. Henry Burdick, managed to elaborate and develop a Nutritional System that offers an answer to the need of millions of people who were searching for a practical but also integral formula.

VIVRI, based in the U.S.A., endorsed by the FDA (Food & Drug Administration), with a team led by Daniel Chavez Saul - MBA graduate from Stanford University - is positioned today as a company with amazing results on their consumers through its effective high quality nutritional products and the unique VIVRI Opportunity for Independent Leaders.

FROM THE HALLWAYS OF STANFORD UNIVERSITY TO YOUR HOME

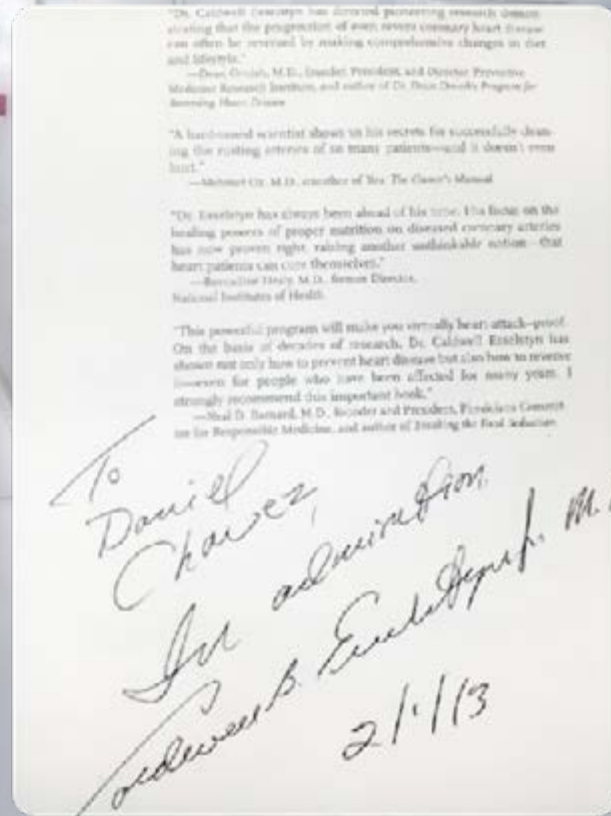

The VIVRI Medical-Scientific Board, integrated by members of Stanford University and other prestigious institutions, led by Mr. Henry Burdick, the “Father of Vitamins”, leveraged it’s talent throughout a year-long effort with the help of an interdisciplinary team of nutritional experts. This team was comprised by doctors, nutritionists, chemists and biologists, all working towards completing the original development of the VIVRI Essential Nutrition System and all the wonderful VIVRI products you can enjoy today.

In discussion about today’s great nutritional challenges in the halls of Stanford University, where our Founder & CEO Daniel Chavez Saul completed his MBA, a clear objective was defined for VIVRI Medical-Scientific Board: to create the most efficient way to give the body a symphony of all the essential nutrients it needs.

VIVRI® LIFESTYLE

At VIVRI we know that life is a gift that we must protect. We are convinced that the VIVRI lifestyle is the ideal way to do so.

According to its definition, a “lifestyle” is a way of life combining both tangible and intangible factors. Tangible ones include your physical health, daily activities and material possessions. Intangibles represent areas such as your values, expectations and emotional health.

Those of us who live the VIVRI lifestyle aspire to balance our physical, economic and emotional health while optimizing our nutrition, quality of life, and financial well-being. We know that this will benefit us in both the short and long term, making a positive impact on future generations.*

VIVRI® CHALLENGE

At the heart of the VIVRI lifestyle, the VIVRI Challenge stands firmly: a 10-day shared experience that jumpstarts your journey towards the best version of yourself. During the VIVRI Challenge, participants form a micro-community and together learn about nutrition, help each other grow, and motivate one another to deepen and solidify each person's own commitment to achieve their ideal weight and a healthy lifestyle.

The VIVRI Essential Nutrition System ESN is the foundation of the VIVRI Challenge. It is the most practical way to receive the symphony of nutrients that your body needs in an easy-to-follow way that generates visible results quickly because of its science, quality, and ease of use.

* According to a study by Case et al. (2002), when a child between 0-3 years of age has a mother who follows a healthy lifestyle, her child will be 27% more likely to adopt the same lifestyle.
